1. Introduction

Acculearn Training Limited T/A Cranbrook College is a learning institution with local and international reach. The College values its individual learners and we seek to demonstrate integrity, honesty and transparency in the delivery of inspirational and personalized learning and teaching. The personal data of our students and staff is our core asset. The College must comply with the European Union General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), UK Data Protection Act, 2018 (DPA) and other relevant legislation protecting privacy rights. This policy applies to all processing of personal data by and for the College, regardless of where the processing takes place.

- The College must also comply with relevant legislation in other jurisdictions where the College operates or will operate.
- The College takes its responsibilities about the management of the requirements of the General Data Protection Regulations 2018 and other Data Protection legislation seriously, and any infringement may be considered under disciplinary procedures.

This policy and related documents have been developed considering key stakeholders including (current and past) College members at all levels, its staff and Learners.

2. Purpose and Aims

- 2.1. This policy and its associated procedures and guidance support College compliance with its obligations as a Data Controller and, where applicable, a Data Processor under data protection law.
- 2.2. The College is responsible for, and must be able to demonstrate, compliance with the following Data Protection Principles (“accountability”).
- 2.3. In summary, these state that personal data shall be:

- processed lawfully, fairly and in a way that is transparent to the data subject
- (“lawfulness, fairness and transparency”);
- collected or created for specified, explicit and lawful purposes and not be further processed in a manner that is incompatible with those purposes. (“purpose limitation”);
- adequate, relevant and limited to what is necessary for those purposes (“data minimization”);
- accurate and kept up to date (“accuracy”);
- retained in a form that can identify individuals for no longer than is necessary for that purpose (“storage limitation”); and
- kept safe from unauthorized access, processing, accidental or deliberate loss or destruction (“integrity and confidentiality”).

2.4. Under data protection law the College must also:

- proactively inform data subjects about its data processing activities and their rights under the law;
- meet its legal obligations as a data controller or processor, including: ensuring that data protection is ‘designed in’ to its processes by default; that we carry out data protection impact assessment; that we maintain records of processing activities; that we take measures to ensure the security of processing and the proper handling of data breaches; and that we have identified an appropriately qualified and senior Data Protection Officer; and
- allow personal data to be transferred to other countries only if it maintains the same level of protection for the privacy rights of the data subjects concerned.

3. Scope

This policy sets out a framework of governance and accountability for data protection compliance across the College.

3.1. What information is included in the policy

This policy applies to all personal data created or received in the course of College business in all formats, of any age. Personal data may be held or transmitted in paper, physical and electronic formats or communicated verbally in conversation or over the telephone.

3.2. Who is affected by the policy

3.2.1 Data subjects

These include, but are not confined to: prospective applicants, applicants to programs and posts, current and former students, alumni, current and former employees, family members where emergency or next of kin contacts are held, workers employed through temping agencies, members of the Board and members of the Committees of the Board, visiting academics and volunteers, potential and actual donors, customers, conference delegates, people making requests for information or enquiries, complainers, professional contacts and representatives of funders, partners and contractors.

3.2.2 Users of personal data

4. Policy Statement

The College will apply the Data Protection Principles and the other requirements of data protection law to the management of all personal data throughout the information life cycle by adopting the following policy objectives.

4.1 We will process personal data fairly and lawfully

This means that we will:

- only collect and use personal data in accordance with the lawful principles set down under the GDPR;
- treat people fairly by using their personal data for purposes and in a way that they would reasonably expect;
- ensure that if we collect someone's personal data for one purpose e.g. to provide advice on study skills, we will not reuse their data for a different purpose that the individual did not agree to or expect e.g. to promote goods and services for an external supplier; and
- rely on consent as a condition for processing personal data only where:
 - we first obtain the data subject's specific, informed and freely given consent;
 - the data subject gives consent, by a statement or a clear affirmative action that we document; and
 - the data subject can withdraw their consent at any time without detriment to their interests.

4.2 We will inform Data Subjects what we are doing with their personal data

This means at the point that we collect their personal data, we will explain to Data Subjects in a clear, concise and accessible way:

- what personal data we collect;
- for what purposes we collect and use their data;
- what lawful conditions we rely on to process data for each purpose and how this affects their rights;

- whether we intend to process the data for other purposes and their rights
- to object;
- the sources from which we obtain their data, where we have received the data from third parties;
- whether we use automated decision making, including profiling, and if so the impact on data subjects and their rights to object;
- whether they need to provide data to meet a statutory or contractual requirement;
- our obligations to protect their personal data;
- to whom we may disclose their data and why;
- where relevant, what personal data we publish and why;
- how data subjects can update the personal data that we hold;
- how long we intend to retain their data;
- how to exercise their rights under data protection law;
- the identity and contact details of the Data Protection Officer; and

We will publish this information on our website and where appropriate in printed formats. We will review the content of these Privacy Notices regularly and inform our data subjects of any significant changes that may affect them.

We will provide simple and secure ways for our students, staff and other data subjects to update the information that we hold about them e.g. home addresses.

Where we process personal data to keep people informed about College activities and events we will provide in each communication a simple way of opting out of further marketing communications.

Through these actions we demonstrate both accountability for our use of personal data and that we manage people's data in accordance with their rights and expectations.

4.3 We will uphold individual's rights as data subjects

This means that we will uphold their rights to:

- obtain a copy of the information comprising their personal data, free of charge within one month of their request;
- have inaccurate personal data rectified and incomplete personal data completed;
- have their personal data erased when it is no longer needed, if the data have been unlawfully processed or if the data subject withdraws their consent, unless there is an overriding legal or public interest in continuing to process the data;
- restrict the processing of their personal data until a dispute about the data's accuracy or use has been resolved, or when the College no longer needs to keep personal data, but the data subject needs the data for a legal claim;
- data portability (if applicable): where a data subject has provided personal data to the College by consent or contract for automated processing and asks for a machine-readable copy or to have the data sent to another data controller;
- object to and prevent further processing of their data for the legitimate interests or public interest unless the College can demonstrate compelling lawful grounds for continuing;
- prevent processing of their data for direct marketing;
- object to decisions that affect them being taken solely by automated means (if applicable); and
- claim compensation for damages caused by a breach of data protection law.

4.4 We will apply “data protection by design and default” principles to all our personal data processing

This means that we will:

- use proportionate privacy and information risk assessment, and where appropriate data protection impact assessment, to identify and mitigate privacy risks at each stage of every project or initiative involving processing personal data and in managing upgrades or enhancements to systems and processes used to process personal data;
- adopt data minimization: we will collect, disclose and retain the minimum personal data for the minimum time necessary for the purpose; and
- anonymize personal data wherever necessary and appropriate, e.g. when using it for statistical purposes, so that individuals can no longer be identified.

4.5 We will protect personal data

This means that we will use appropriate technical and organizational measures to:

- control access to personal data so that staff, contractors and other people working on College business can only see such personal data as is necessary for them to fulfil their duties;
- require all College staff, contractors, students and others who have access to personal data in the course of their work to complete basic data protection training, supplemented as appropriate by procedures and guidance relevant to their specific roles;
- set and monitor compliance with security standards for the management of personal data as part of the College's wider framework of information security policies and procedures;

- reduce risks of disclosure by pseudonymising personal data where possible;
- provide appropriate tools for staff, contractors, students and others to use and communicate personal data securely when working away from the College, for instance through provision of a secure Virtual Private Network, encryption and cloud solutions;
- take all reasonable steps to obtain assurance that all suppliers, contractors, agents and other external parties who process personal data for the College will comply with auditable security controls to protect our data and enter into our standard contracts in accordance with our procurement policies and procedures;
- maintain data sharing agreements with educational partners and other external bodies with whom we may need to share personal data to deliver academic programs, shared services or joint projects to ensure proper governance, accountability and control over the use of such data;
- where transferring personal data to another country outside the European Union put in place appropriate agreements and auditable security controls to maintain privacy rights;
- ensure that our students are aware of how data protection law applies to their use of personal data during their studies and how they can take appropriate steps to protect their own personal data and respect the privacy of others;
- manage all subject access and third-party requests for personal information about staff, students and other data subjects in accordance with our procedures for responding to requests for personal data; and
- make appropriate and timely arrangements to ensure the confidential destruction of personal data in all media and formats when it is no longer required for College business.

4.6 We will retain personal data only as long as required

This means that we will:

- apply the College's records retention schedules to keep records and information containing personal data only so long as required for the purposes for which they were collected;
- apply exemptions to public rights of access to information as appropriate in accordance with the data subjects' rights to privacy; and
- redact personal data where information is only required for statistical purposes e.g. by pseudonymization.

4.7 We will manage any breaches of data security promptly and appropriately

This means that we will take all necessary steps to reduce the impact of incidents involving personal data by following the data breach procedures.

Where a data breach is likely to result in a risk to the rights and freedoms of data subjects, the Data Protection Officer will liaise with the Information Commissioner's Office and report the breach, in line with regulatory requirements, within 72 hours of discovery. The Data Protection Officer will also recommend, where necessary, actions to inform data subjects and reduce risks to their privacy arising from the breach.
